Loudon, August 9 .- (By the Associated Press.)-Four British destroyers closed in upon the steamer Baltie carrying Archbishop Mannix, of Australia, from the United States, off the Irish coast in the early hours of this morning and the commander fashionable sections cheaper than in of the destroyer Wivern, with two Scotland yard detectives, went aboard and placed the archbishop under just a beginning of a movement by with his secretary, the Rev. Prelate Goes to London. London, August 9 .- (United News. The archbishop refused to make any comment on the unusual attenhas been receiving from British officials and the press due to his position in the Irish controversy. But he did say that he had been treated with courtesy by the authorities who had made it their duty to divert him from Liverpool. And he added that he had been granted permission to visit anywhere in England or Scotland except Manchester.

Giving Government Concern. Just what the Irish sympathizers, who have desired to make something of a hero of Archbishop Manthis situation, will do now that he has been forbidden to go to them, is a matter that is giving the government concern. It is presumed that the authorities required him to give his word not to visit the forbidden areas, and that therere if he is to address the Liverpool and Manofester and Glasgow Irish they will have to send delega tions to some other city to meet him. Steps might even be taken to prevent this, under the powers con-defense of the realm act.

Following out the government program, the house of lords rushed through the bill for the restoration of order in Ireland Monday, passing it through every stage of reading in one session. It is now ready for the royal assent, whereupon the government will immediately put into effect its term which provide for a system of courts-martial to check disorder and crime, suspend-

Governor Facing Dilemma. The dilemma facing the governor was brought into outstanding relief Monday by the refusal of the constitutional amendments committee of the senate to approve the Arnold tax income measure, which killed in committee by a vote of 10' to 5. This negative action was taken by the committee despite the proffered amendment Elders that proposed to fix the income tax gathered by the state at one-tenth of the present federal rate, and guaranteed that the exemptions would never be lowered. The Arnold income tax bill, a contitutional amendment, was looked upon by Representative George house as a possible cure for the inancial ills to which the state has fallen heir, and it was regarded as-the only hope for additional revenue, with the exception of the Brown bond bill, which provides for the issuance of $5,000,00 in bonds by the state to meet emergencies and necessary expenses. The Brown bill, which comes up today, is not expected to pass, although its author, Representative

Brown, of Clarke, has had much assurance of support.

Following the action of the senate constitutional amendments committee Monday afternoon in killing the Arnold income tax measure, Senator Elders, of the second district, gave notice that he would file a minority notice that he would file a minority report, which would carry the names of Senators Flynt, Rabun, Bowden, Innis, Dixon and Elders, and he put the committee on notice that should the rules committee of that should the rules committee of the senate refuse to provide for his minority resolution upon the calen-dar, he would conduct a fillbuster throughout the remainder of the session, thereby killing the ratifi-cation of all appropriation bills. TO BIBLE READING

Attendance Will Not Be Compulsory, However, According to Decision Made by Board.

RESOLUTION OPPOSED BY HENRY TROUTMAN

Wording of Ballots on Reading of Bible in the Schools Declared Ambiguous by W. D. Hoffman.

Attendance on Bible reading in the public schools will not be compulsory, according to the measure at its meeting Monday afternoon. when a resolution was passed making the period for Bible reading in each of the schools from 8:30 to 8:40 each morning, with the provision that the roll shall not be called until 8:40.

Henry Troutman, vice president of the board, voted against the resolution, which was the amended form of a resolution introduced by W. H. Terrell, saving that the effort to have the Bible read in the schools was "a slap at the Jews and Catholics" and was not a just step. Troutman requested that his vote against the measure be recorded in the minutes. The lack of lucidity in the word ing of the ballots in the referendum held in connection with the recent primary on the question of Bible reading was also criticised by W. D. Hoffman, a member of the board. Mr. Hoffman said that the two choices: "For reading the Bible in the public schools without comment," and "Against reading the Bible in the public schools without comment" were ambiguous, in that the last gave the reader the impression that it signified favor of reading the Bible with comment.

Accept J. O. U. A. M. Offer. The resolution which the board adopted accepted the offer of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics to provide the Bibles for use of the schools, further specifyng that they shall be the American revised version.

In objecting to the passage of the esolution indorsing Bible reading, Mr. Troutman said:

"I am a Methodist myself, but I resent the attempt to have the Bible read as a step against any religion The recent referendum does not make it right. History, in so far as we have any authentic record of it. shows that the majority has always been wrong in the question of morals or religion. The most bril-Christ. The majority crucified Him. more than a slap at the Jews and the Catholics of the city, and I wish to go on record as opposing it."

Comment Is Discussed, It was also suggested by mem-pers of the board, in the genera discussion of the measure, that the Bible could not be read, strictly speaking, without comment. Because, it was said, the inflection of the reader's voice, the selection of a chapter or of a verse, all these things could be taken as commen in the impressionable mind of the child. The resolution provided that the poard of education shall select the schedule and program of reading and that teachers shall be specially selected and appointed for the luty.

Some little controversy developed ver whether or not the parents who did not wish the Bible read to their children should be required to enter written requests with the teachers to that effect. The measure adopted whereby roll call is deferred until after the reading. making attendance optional, was decided upon as the best method of solution.

New York, August 9.—Searching investigation of the circumstances which resulted in serious injuries to John C. Slavin, veteran musical comedy actor, who is unconscious in hospital, was ordered this afternoon by District Attorney Swann. The house committee of Lambs tonight issued a statement saying that McGraw precipitated an altercation in the club early Sunday morning when he mistook an actor for a man with whom he "had a difference."

In Order to Aid Poland Offer of Atlanta Post of Legion

By Britain and France

The resolutions passed last night by Atlanta Post, No. 1, of the American Legion, declaring that since Thomas E. Watson, candidate for the United States senate, has "lamented the fact" that he bought $2,000 worth of Liberty bonds, which have depreciated to such an extent as to "occasion him a net financial loss of $300," the post stands willing to take the bonds off his hands at par value with accrued interest to date, are as follows:

To Buy Watson's Liberty Bonds

"Whereas, It is reported that in public speeches made by him in the course of his campaign for United States Senator, Thomas E. Watson has lamented the fact that he had bought during the world war Liberty bonds of the par value of $2,000, which had since depreclated to such an extent as to occasion him a net financial loss of $300: and that he has announced his desire to dispose of this in

"Therefore, be it resolved, by Atlanta Post, No. 1, of the American Legion, that we tender to Thomas E. Watson the sum of $2,000, with accrued interest to date in exchange for such bonds, thereby cancelling without monetary loss to him the sole contribution which he made to the cause of his country in the crucial period when patriots of genuine souls were willingly buying their government's gilt-edge securities to the utmost limit of their resources, while other patriots were spilling their blood in defense of its honor, and at a time when Thomas E. Watson's fellow-townsman, H. Earl Williams, for whom the Legion Post at Thomson, Ga., is named, was naving on the fields of France the last heroic price of a soldier's devotion.

"Be it further resolved. That by this proposed business transac tion these bonds may be transferred from disloyal to loyal hands, and at the same time accomplish the full restoration to Thomas E. Watson of the reputed remuneration collected by him in fees for acting as the legal counsellor of draft evaders and deserters, thus effacing what has hitherto put him in the inconsistent role of apparently making a contribution to the winning of the war on one side, while on the other side he was in reality exercising his cunning to paralyze the government by lending aid and comfort to its internal

"Be it further resolved, That the bonds in question, upon the acceptance of this tender, shall be donated to the campaign fund of either Thomas E. Watson or Thomas W. Hardwick, provided either of them, or any person whomsoever, will furnish to any three justices of the supreme court of Georgia whom they may designate within ten days from date hereof, satisfactory legal evidence tending to establish either of the following specific charges which have been made by these officeseekers and their followers to the substantial effect that the American Legion is wholly or in part, eiher or all,

LETTER SENT TO TOM WATSON

The above resolution was sent to Mr. Watson, with the follow-

itself. "The undersigned now holds on deposit, subject to the terms of this resolution, a sum of money subscribed by members of the American Legion sufficient to pay par value for the $2,000 worth of Liberty bonds which you announced that you bought during the world war, and which you have declared you are anxious to sell, together with accrued interest for all uncut coupons thereon

"Upon attaching the bonds to a sight draft drawn by you upon the undersigned through the Bank of Thomson the same will be honored upon presentation, and the bonds will thereafter be held by any bank or trust company you may name, subject to re-delivery to you or to Mr. Thomas W. BRITAIN AND FRANCE TO BLOCKADE RUSSIA

dence of the new nation were in fact threatened, it would seem very likely that the allies would take more drastic measures than are now contemplated. But here again arises the situation both in England and France, where there is a strong laborite and anti-militaristic sentiment opposed to any kind of offensive measures against Russia at all. It is one of the most difficult things the allies have to deal with in developing their course Parliament to Decide. The plans are subject to the approval of the British parliament, which Premier Lloyd-George will

It is probable, if the plans are approved, that they will not go into effect, until the preliminary results of the meeting at Minsk between the soviet and Polish negotiators are known. If these indicate a willingness by the Russians to adopt a course considered reasonable in dealing with the Poles, the allied aid may be withheld.

The British government has de-cided that the Russian mission may remain in London until the Minsk conference is concluded.

It is stated that th eallies, although loath to admit it, now feel there is little hope of saving Warsaw, and that the question of Poland is no longer the sole issue. The main problem confronting the premiers is the defense of western

In British and French circles it is declared that the intentions of the bolsheviki regarding Poland are becoming clearer with every hour. The prevailing impression among the British and French officials is that the soviet government hopes through the Polish offensive, firmly to establish solshevism at the doors of the western powers.

Premier Millerand is firm in urg-ing the French policy, which includes the blockade and the defensive measures already indicated. It is stated that Premier Lloyd-George, although not opposed to a blockade, is reluctant to sever definitely all negotiations . Rus-

"This conference feels certain that war is being engineered be-tween the allied powers and soviet Russia on the issue of Poland, and declares that such a war would be an intolerable crime against human-ity.

an intolerable crime against humanity.

"It therefore warns the government that the whole industrial power of the organized workers will be used to defeat this war."

"It was resolved by the conference to take such steps as may be necessary to carry the above decision into effect."

The statement advised all labor organizations to be prepared to send their leaders to London "to instruct their members to lay down their tools."

A "committee of action" appoint-

A "committee of action" appointed by the meeting will see Premier Lloyd-George at noon tomorrow. The conference which represented the whole field of labor is regarded as having presented an ultimatum to the government threatening direct action.

The independent liberals held a meeting in the house of commons

The independent liberals held a meeting in the house of commons tonight and passed a resolution protesting against any intervention against Russia by way of a blockade, men, money or munifions. The independent liberals in the house of commons number about thirty.

Might Overthrow Cabinet.

Possibilities in the situation would seem to be unlimited. If the laborites summoned sufficient would seem to be unlimited. If the laborites summoned sufficient support to prevent a vote of confidence in the Lloyd-George plan, it might lead to overthrow of the cabinet, though this eventuality is not anticipated. It might, also, if the threat of strike were carried out on a sufficiently wide Scale force the hand of the government in adopting actual war policies to continue production of war supplies.

In all events the reaction to the Polish crisis thus far has been such as to cause the cabinet to view it with undisguised concern, though it is still hoped to ward off any more serious trouble until after the Russian and Polish armistice representatives meet Wednesday and it can be seen what Russia proposes as a psice for peace from Poland.

The jumpy state of commons' nerves over the situation was well illustrated during Monday's debate.
Bonar Law was made the objective of a rapid fire of interrogations from the floor, but escaped direct answers by pleading ignorance of the facts. Sir Donald McLean and J. B. Clynes endeavored to pin him down to a promise that there would be no warlike measures taken until the whole question had been laid before-commons and discussed.

Bonar Law's Retort.

"It all deneds upon what is

Bonar Law's Retort.

"It all depends upon what is meant by 'wariike measures.'" Bonar Law retorted. "I made clear last week that in view of the fact that an armistice had not been granted and ethnographical Poland had been invaded, we were taking steps to prevent a repetition of the Brest-Litovsk treaty."

Efforts to stop debate were everwhelmingly defeated.

McLean declared that many members were ready to do their utmost to prevent the house from recessing while the crisis was pending, but Bonar Law replied merely to "wait until a recess motion is introuced."

Sharp reminder of the government's delicate position in the present crisis may well be seen in the South Norfolk by-election, which resulted in the election of a laborite, G. Edwards, over J. H. Batty liberal and government candidate, by over 2.000 votes, the severest defeat the Lloyd-George regime has suffered in a long time. Opponents of the premier are exploiting Batty's defeat as condemnation of the government's Polish and other policies.

On top of Sunday's laborite demonstrations in many centers, where loud protests were raised in opposition to any allied movement against the soviet government, the laborites after a caucus Monday in the house of commons, have sent word to labor executives throughout the nation to come to London'at once prepared for action.

The government has been warned that this "action" will mean a general strike, if necessary, to prevent perations against the soviets. The situation forecasts a stormy time for Lloyd-George when he appeared before commons to explain the allied course decided upon in the Polish crisis.

A general strike of the trades unionists would imply the stopping of manufacture and exportation of munitions and other supplies to Poland for use against Russia.

The resolution of the Soniat post was the most drastic act of the internal policy since the legion was formed. "Mr. Roosevelt's speech is characteristic of the man," said Governor Cox. "It is a wholesome, sensible view of conditions full of hope as to our future and radiant of the happiness of the individual. The western country will like This splendid type of progressive statesman. Following the two years of gloom and carping, captious criticism from the republican leaders, it will be a genuine refreshment in the great land Mr. Roosevelt now enters, for the people to meet a representative of government whose soul is possessed of the philosophy of joy."

The Colors of Nature Combine To Make the Oriental Rug a Thing of Beauty

O colors you see in THE RUG FROM THE ORIENT but what finds its counterpart in nature. The simple children of Nature who weave these Rugs lovingly by hand know no other guide than Nature herself and look to Nature for inspiration in the sort blendings of color which make THE ORIENTAL RUG the most beautiful thing in the world.

Here you see the brown of the earth in spring blended with the soft blue of the sky; against this background the yellow of a blooming pepper bush, the blush of crimson in the first streaks of dawn. Qr perhaps the wonderful shadings of mulberry seen as the sun strikes across a tree laden with ripened berries and nearly always against this mulberry background you see the dank green of the leaves of the tree itself. There are color motifs which come from the night, too, dark rugs of midnight blue shot with the silver of moonbeams, and those weavers who live by the sea have woven every conceivable color mood of the ocean into the hearts of their rugs. The calm, clear, translucent blue of a pleasant day, the grey green-of seas whipped angrily by stormy winds, the whitecap on the breast of a billow, all these and more of Nature's magnificence and lavish generosity in color are found in the selections of AUTHEN-TIC ORIENTAL RUGS to be seen here.

We have here for your choosing the largest and most comprehensive collection of ORIENTAL RUGS EVER BROUGHT TO THE SOUTH.

They include Rugs from every weaving village of the Near East. Authentic examples of the very finest product of the weaver's art. And they are priced so reasonably that the comparison between the Oriental Rug and the Better Rug of domestic weave makes one certain that with a lifetime of service assured and with the value of Oriental Rugs constantly increasing, it is better and cheaper by far to purchase THE RUG FROM THE ORIENT.

Keith Vaudeville.

There's nearly everything that tired business man or anybody else could ask for in the way of enter-tainment on the Lyric's opening bill this week, whether ft might be humor, pretty girls, harmonyor any thing else that makes up an evening of varied entertainment.

It's a good bill—an extra good bill—all the way through. Take Carson & Williard for instance, one of whom introduces the other as a commentator on political, moral, social and miscellaneous issurs of the day. The commentator closely resembles Chester Conklin, "The Walrus" of movie fame, in appearance, and his burlesque comment on matters ranging from profiteering to presidential elections, was frequently interrupted by applause.

A close second to Carson & Williard is the diverting musical comedietta entitled "What Love Will Do," presented by a company of five, including a stunning "vampire," a detective, a duo of comely girls and a comedian.

The Lyric's bill opens pleasantly with a trip of a company of the strength of the theory, but may be remedied in the problem of "Sex" is representative of its title signified pathing. a comedian.

The Lyric's bill opens pleasantly with a trio of colorfully attired young ladies who offer an enjoyable selection of songs. Following them comes Jack Lipton, a young gentleman who won emphatic approval by his artful imitations of all the instruments in a symplomy preheater.

struments in a symphony orchestra.

Daley, Mack & Daley close the show, most acceptably with a roller skating act.

Loew Vaudeville.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

Jazzing the cello is something new in vaudeville. This catchy brand of music has been done to perfection on the piano, the clarionet and other musical instruments, but McKee Tracey, who appears at Loew's Grand in an act with Elizabeth Ardell, is one of the few who has been able to make the cello ochave in a like manner.

The two give an appealing program of syncopation.

The vaudeville program also includes the Twentieth Century Four, pretty young women members of a well known musical family. Kennedy & Martin who do some excellent black face work and Shaw& Bernard appearing as "The Mosquito Trust."

Bernard appearing as "The Mosquito Trust."

Follette's monkeys, an act consisting of a man and a woman and four of these human looking animals, is one to thwart those opposed to Darwin's theory.

The photoplay bill is a double offering of Leah Baird in a picturization of Leuis Joseph Vance's famous novel, "Cynthia-of-the-Minute." and Charlie Chaplin in his most celebrated comedy picture "The Immigrant."

Olive Thomas.

(At the Oriterion.)

There's plenty of good entertainment in the program at the Criterion theater this week the long list of screen features includes Olive Thomas in "Youthful Folly." Harold Lloyd in "His Royal Slyness." Pathe Review, Topics of the Day and Screen Shapshots, the latter being motion picture ylews of prominent screen stars both at work and at play. A musical event of interest is the appearance of Charles Sheldon, Jr., municipal organist, in the first of a series of organ numbers, which are to be contributed by Atlanta musicians.

the theory, but may be remember practice.

That "Sex" is representative of its title signified nothing. Ninety-plus per cem of the screen dramas of today revolve around the sex question. That "Sex" is a powerful story without pretending to be an "expose" or a tract upon the follies of men and women is evident upon the unfolding of the first reel of the play, which, incidentally, is a most artistic production.

"The Silent Barrier."

"The Silent Barrier."

At the Tudor this week is "The Silent Barrier," a full-of-action drama with a remarkable love story woven into a maze of thrilling adventure, enacted by a powerful aggregation of stage and screen favorites, the truly all-star cast, including Sheldon Lewis, Gladys Hulette, Fuller Mellish, Florence Dixon, Donald Cameron, Corinne Earker, Mathilde Brundage, Jack Raymond, Joseph Burke and Adolph Milar. Some of the snow scenes in "The Silent Barrier" are of a most unusual character, and all of them have a direct bearing on the gripping plot in the Tracy story, which includes plunges over precipices, mountain sledge races, sking competition and other difficult mountaineering feats. Sheldon Lewis, one of the best known leading men, of the American stage, who played star roles for twenty years in stock and was leading man for Mrs. Fiske, Ada Rehan, Blanche Walsh and other famous stars, we never had a more convincing or more strenuous role than that of Mark Bdwer, villain of "The Silent Barrier."

Mary Miles Minter.

"Jenny Be Good." is the offering at the Forsyth.)

"Jenny Be Good." is the offering at the Forsyth the first half of the week, with dainty little Mary Miles Minter in the stellar role. In this picture Miss Minter plays a sympathetic role that appeals to the best in American womanhood. It is a play in which life's lights and shadows are vividly brought out and the extremes of society poignantly brought out. "Jenny Be Good" is a splendid vehicle for Miss Minter's particular style of acting, giving her well-rounded part, with delightful light comedy, beautiful love scenes and acartifices which call for emotional acting of the finest type. The supporting cast is well balanced and capable, and the photography deserves special mention.

"Excuse My Dust."

Admirers of Wallace Reid, the big Paramount star, have an opportunity of seeing him this week at the Strand in three of his best plays. The picture for today is "Excuse My Dnst." one of the best automobile stories ever filmed. On Wednesday and Thursday Mr. Reid will be seen in "Sick Abed," a farce comedy that will convulse you with laughter. In this pictures, is his leading woman. She takes the part of a trained nurse, and it's a riot from the beginning. On Friday and Saturday Wally will be seen in "The Dancin' Fool," one of the cleverest productions of the year. Miss Daniels also plays opposite him in this picture. If you think Wally and Bebe can't dance, see this one. You'll change your mind.

Mr. Roosevelt's early political successes are attributed by his friends to his opposition to Tammany, but apparently past differences were forgotten today in the desire to present a united front in the coming campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt closely followed his manuscript, and was listened to with intense interest. Three of four times, during the course of his speech, his voice was drowned out by the noise of an airplane which soared overhead, and he was forced Text of Roosevelt's Address.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech follows:

Mr. Cummings and Ladles and Genetlemen of the Committee: I accept the nomination for the office of vice president with humbleness and with a deep wish to give to our beloved country the best that is in me. No one could receive a higher privilege or opportunity than to be thus associated with men and ideals which I am confident, will soon receive the support of the majority of our citizens.

In fact, I could not conscientiously accept it, if I had not come to know by the closest intimacy that he who is our selection for the presidency, and who is my chief and yours, is a man possessed of ideals which are also mine. He will give to America that kind of leadership which will make us respect him and bring further greatness to our land. In James M. Cox I recognize one who can lead this nation forward in an unhalting march of progress.

Two great problems will confront the next administration; our relations with the world and the pressing need of organized progress at home. The latter includes a systematized and intensified development of our resources and a progressive betferment of our citizenship. These matters will require the guiding hand of a president who can see his country above his party and who, having a clear vision of things as they save, has also the independence, courage and skill to guide us along the road to things as they should be without swerving one footstep at the dictation of narrow partisans who whisper "party" or of selfish interest that murmur "profits."

In our world problems we must either shut our eyes, sell our new-ty-built merchant marine to more far-seeing foreign powers, crush utterly by embargo and harassing legislation our foreign trade, close our ports and build an impregnable wall of costly armaments and live, as the Orient used to live, a hermit nation, dreaming of the past; or we have a devented by that devil's catchword "international

SENATOR VS. CANDIDATE. What a glaring difference be

The record of Senator Smith shows that throughout the treaty fight in the senate, when the friends of the administration were battling like Trojan warriors to save the treaty-to ratify it together with the league of nations covenant, thus to complete our victory over the Prussian enemy of civilization-he was lined up with the republican enemy, as a member of the notorious "poison squad" along with Reed and Vardaman and As TO WHAT THEY WILL DO IS Gore, making common cause with them in a desperate effort to "get THE PAST." Question of Who Will Be Governor When Dorsey Is Elected Senator - Speaker John Holder Flaying Hardwick on the Stump - The Senatorial Race and the Georgia State Papers.

and timely inquiry: Dear Mr. Hollomon: In the event that Governor Dorsey is elected United States senator, which seems assured, when will he take office? If before his term as governor expires, wh will be governor? Very truly, WILLIAM S. SCARBORO.

Griffin, Ga., August 8, 1920. The term of Senator Hoke Smith expires on the 4th of March, 1921. If Governor Hugh Dorsey is elected to succeed him, which is probable, as you say, he will be sworn in as senator on that date, and, of course, would have resigned previous to that date as governor of Georgia. there you are. In any event, however, if Governor Dorsey is elected to the senhim to resign before his term as governor expires, it is certain that Georgia will have a good governor, in either Olive or Holder, until her electorate can choose one at a special election for the short term.

John Holder Flays Hardwick.

This reminds me that John Holder is "shelling the woods" against Thomas W. Hardwick, just as Clifford Walker is doing. There are few better speakers in Georgia than Holder; not that he is necessarily a great orator, but he talks hard sense, plenty of it, and talks it with a sincerity that carries conviction and a force that carries firmness and courage.

He is closing his eighth year as speaker, and it is doubtful if Georgia ever had a better presiding officer. He is just as honest as he ed any minute in the year as a cors rugged, and just as dependable as he is honest.

He is a true and loyal democrat, who stands four square behind the administration and the true and tried policies of old line, organized democracy.

Mr. Warwick is a feature writer | Holder because his term of office actual service is concerned, on Wednesday night of this week, and I know how deeply the members of the legislature appreciate him, his unalterable fairness, his alertness, his ability as a parliamentarian, and his earnest desire to construct, and not to tear down.

As to the way that Holder is going after Hardwick, the following, quoted from his address at Covington Saturday, illustrates:

"Mr. Hardwick is certainly

"Mr. Hardwick is certainly paying a dear price for the privilege of running for governor—the filling of his heart and very soul with intense animosity and consuming antipathy of his fellowman. In such a campaign as he is conducting he is demonstrating to the people of Georgia that he could not make a just governor of Georgia who could not be fair to friend or foe alike, and no man can be fair and just, who has the sentiments in his heart that Mr. Hardwick evidences by "Mr. Hardwick is certainly that Mr. Hardwick evidences by "I still say that in his public record he has not been a builder, but a critic and a destroyer. He has not been for things which would benefit and upbuild the state and nation, and keep step with progress and development, but rather has been an opponent to all these things without offering anything in substitution therefor. It was in the state where he had an opportunity to do a great work that he developed into a critic and an obstructionist. He favored disfranchising the negro in Georgia, but favored giving him the ballot in Washington so that the negro then could defeat efforts to abolish saloons in that city. He opposed the ship purchase bill, parcels post and the federal reserve act, the best laws in behalf of the masses that have been placed on the statute books in a half century.

"I favor the right of free assemblage, but where there is a gathering of people who propose to destroy our institutions, burn down our rhomes, wreck and ruin our properties and, above all, seek the destruction of the democratic government, then the law steps in and says you must stop—you must disperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must desperse, and the law can come in further and say you must be punished. On this great question the platform adopted at San Francisco voices the very heart and life of democracy." "I still say that in his public cord he has not been a builder,

It has not been my privilege to hear the Speaker in this campaign, but I hope to do so. I have heard Walker, who also makes a highclass, statesman-like address, and Says Smith May Get a masterful arraignment of the repudiated ex-senator.

Wonder What Smith

Thinks of This One? And wonder what Senator Smith thinks of this little side-glance by The Thomasville Times-Enterprise. Just a word of prophecy, for Smith and Gore voted together. Both of them consorted with Lodge to kill the league, and both are jointly responsible for the consequences. Here is what Jerger says:

"The defeat of Senator Gore in the Oklahoma primaries is not a surprise. For some years Mr. Gore, who is afflicted with blindness, has served in the senate and heretofore has managed to keep his place through the unwillingness of his opponents to take advantage of his affliction in some measure and to his constructive politics in other measures.

"During the war he became one of the so-called obstructionists and his acts have brought his undoing politically. His pacifism and his attempts to obstruct the war brought retribution in the selection of Scott Ferris, a congressman whose record was satisfactory, even though his ability in some respects may not be equal to that of the blind senator. As that of the blind senator. As Gore has gone so will go some more of those who after the war have obstructed peace and brought the world to the great chasm of another conflict at the present time, for the senate of the United States is largely responsible for the situation in Europe today and on its head will rest the cause for the policy that seems imminent."

Twenty Counties.

And here is The Rome Tribune Herald only giving Hoke Smith twenty counties in his present race. with a postscript declaring that this number will dwindle. That must be illuminating to the senior senator. The paragraph follows:

"It is confidently predicted that Hoke Smith won't carry twenty counties in the senatorial primary, and as time goes on the number will continue to dwindle."

"Governor Dorsey's announce-

It smacks of genuine democracy throughout, praising the record of the administration, raking over the republicans a bit, and calling on all democrats to rally to the support of the party in the coming primary.

"Throughout his term of office Governor Dorsay has been squarely back of the Washington administration, working in perfect accord with party lead-ton administration, working in perfect accord with party leaders, not only during the war, but the reconstruction days that have followed, and his statement makes it plain that he hasn't changed front in the least, and that when he goes to the senate, he will become even a greater asset to the party and a further credit to his home state."

Some More Gems

Here is a little gem from The Athens Ranner that no doubt will enlighten the senior senator if he will take the pains to read it-"Senator Smith has asked 'why "Senator Smith has asked 'why divide the vote with Tom Watson?" That is easy to answer. The purpose of dividing the vote between Tom Watson and Senator Smith is to make certain the election of a demo-men give would make any father or mother of a growing girl just a wee bit anxious.

Dancing is a wholesome pastime and a pretty thing to look at. There is nothing objectionable in polite forms of dancing, ot least from the viewpoint of hygiene. But these impolite, questionable, licentious dances accompanied with jazz music are ruinous to health in a great many instances, because they break down the moral restraints and lead to deplorable disasters.

Even if the young man indulging in jazz dancing is morally impeccable, he suffers, nevertheless, a physical injury which becomes apparent enough and often brings him to the physician for treatment. No doubt the upright young woman who acquires the habit of jazz suffers greater injuries—and the disturbances which follow are readily misinterpreted by women who undertake to advise her.

The irregular hours, the loss of sleep, the foul atmosphere of the dance hall or cabaret, the intimate contact with persons harboring all sorts of disease, these are rather-unimportant features of the unhyglenic jazz. The demoralization of young men and young women which this lecherous importation is working cannot fall to lower the respect of the male sex for the female sex and Heaven knows too many men consider the sex of their mothers legitimate prey to lust as it is.

There is no more justification or need for impurity on the part of the male than there is for the female There is to be one standard of morality hereafter. That standard will be high or low, as the woman wills. By means of jazz she is certainly not holding the standard high.

would be referred to the judiciary committees which, if inclined to do so, would conduct hearings. A vote in either house was not regarded as probable before the end of the week at the earliest.

With the exception of the message of Governor Roberts, greatest interest today was manifested in a caucus of republican members of the senate and house at which leaders previously had said an attempt would be made to pledge them to vote as a unit in favor of ratification. Former Governor Ben W. Hooper, Alfred Taylor, representative in congress from the second district, and several other republican state leaders were present. Discussion of the situation, it was said, was participated in only by these leaders and by several legislators favorable to ratification. No action was taken toward adopting the unit plan and several of those who were present declared no attempt was made to pledge the members to vote favorably on the ratification resolutions. Mr. Hooper and others, however, were said to have told the caucus that political expediency demanded that the republicans support ratification. Republicans Attacked.

Republicans Attacked.

Parley P. Christensen, presidential nominee of the farmer-labor party, in a formal statement tonight, declared that refusal of the caucus to indorse the amendment was "a direct betrayal by the republican party of its platform pledge for woman suffrage, and Senator Harding, Will Hays and their associated republican leaders must plead guilty to the betrayal." The republican membership was a minority membership, Mr. Christensen said, but he declared republican action favorable to ratification would force the democrats to ratify or to admit opposition to ratification.

Claims and Counter-Claims.

Claims and counter-claims, flew thick and fast tonight, with the suffragists declaring the amendment would be ratified and the antisc claiming it would be defeated. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the American Woman Suffrage association, in a statement today, however, declared that if members pledged to ratification stood by their pledges the suffragists would win. No member announced as pledged against ratification was counted on by the suffragists, she said.

On all sides it was said the course of the republican delegation would play an important, if not a vital part in the issue. Seven of the thirty-three senators are republicanes. Seventeen votes in the senate are necessary for ratification. In the house, however, the membership of ninety-nine includes twenty-nine republicans. Ranks of the suffragists were strengthened today by the arrival of United States Senator McKellar, democrat, of Tennessee, who announced that he was here to do what he could for ratification. Mr. McKellar immediately got in touch with Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the American Woman Suffrage association and leader of the ratification forces.

On 44th Anniversary.

The convening of the legislature today occurs upon the forty-fourth anniversary of the first formal presentation of the woman suffrage issue in Tennessee. On the evening of August 9, 1876, in the hall of representatives of the capitol. Mrs. Napoleon Cromwell, of Mississippi, addressed the democratic state convention in behalf of the vote for women, concluding with an appeal that the convention adopt a resolution favoring woman suffrage. The convention was presided over by the late James D. Richardson, for many years representative in congress late James D. Richardson, for many years representative in congress from the fifth district, and included in its membership General Luke E. Wright, Judge J. M. Dickinson and others who in later years became nationally known.

The convention failed to grant Mrs. Cromwell's request, but went forward with its business of nominating candidates for state offices and nominating a dozen Tilden electors, headed by General William B. Hale and including Benton McMillin. later governor of Tennessee, and now United States minister to Guatemala.

NO Worms in a Healthy Child.
All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health.—Pleasant to take.

The proper blend of these oils when perfectly saponified add just that prerequisite needed to give life to the hair and health to the scalp. So excellent are their virtues that they have been used separately for years as first ald for the hair.

When perfectly blended and suspended in solution, perfectly saponified as in Shuco Shampoo they are valuable and almost indispensable to the hair.

Soaps and the many cheap forms of emulsions do the hair more harm than good. They leave a harsh sticky film that covers the hair, stiffes out its life nad catches more dirt and dust than before.

Shuco Shampoo on the other hand softens the hair, puts new life into it, rinses out thoroughly and leaves it sweet, fluffy, lustrous and wavy. Your mirror will tell you why Shuco Shampoo makes hair with a thousand lights. 60c at all drug stores.—(adv.)

An accident Monday resulted in Perry Barnett, 14 years old, of Smyrna, Ga., losing his left hand in a sausage mill in the butcher shop of Taylor & Hall, on the Howell Mill road, where his father was employed. He was rushed to the Grady hospital for treatment. The little boy had been helping make sausage and in some way got his hand caught in the mill.

Mr. Wohlwender of Muscogee was another opponent to the measure which was framed at the instance of various charitable organizations of the state. John Y. Smith, of Fulton, made an address in support of the bill. The senate bill by Senator Pittman of the 42d, known as the "loan shark" bill, passed the house with cut a dissenting vote. The measurepermits money lenders to charge only 3½ per cent per month on loans, instead of 5 per cent as heretofore.

Mr. Jackson of Jones made a strong speech in support of the bill, in which he declared that the bill did not even "begin to reach far enough." He quoted passages from a recent report of the Fulton county grand jury in which it was stated that jury investigations disclosed the fact that borrowers of money from "sharks" in Fulton county have been required to pay interest at the rate of from 250 per cent to 3,000 per cent per annum.

RUBE ROBINSON TO WORK By JOE HATCHER

FOUR STRAIGHT GAMES

Rather than have local sport writers add another day to their two weeks of struggle in finding something new to say about the crucial Cracker-Traveler series, Kid Elberfeld makes a startling announcement that Rube Robinson will attempt to break all precedents in the history of baseball and win four straight games off the first division Crackers. Now, as a matter of argument, we emphatically deny Rube's ability to accomplish any such feat, or, for that matter, to beat us in two games in succession. Admitting that Rube is the Crackers' biggest jinx in Dixie circles, and that the Travelers are in a bad way for dependable hurling, it is possible that the Rube will take a shot at the Crackers for more than one game, despite the fact that he usually wants his four days of rest and quiet before facing the artillery of the opposition. Should Robinson have only the Crackers to face during the Southern league season, his average would look more like Tris Speaker's fielding average on a perfect day.

Rube Willing to Try.

Rube Willing to Try.

The Arkansas Traveler is a willing worker and is like a certain brand of "old rye" we used to hear of in ancient times—grows better with age. In a crisis in such a heated race with the Pelicans rapping along, only a half-game separating them from the league leaders, the Kid is willing to take some desperate chances to keep his head up at this stage of the game. Thus we are willing to admit the possibility of Rube's attempt to twirl the first double bill against the Grackers and leave the other twin affair of Wednesday for the lesser lights, Jonnard, Hengeveld and Yellowhorse, who have not proven so successful in their raids on the Cracker stronghold.

Rain the Most Serious Disappointment of Day.

Regardless of any advantages that rain may carry, it looms as the most unwelcome visitor to Atlanta in several passings of the moon. The Hardwick-Watson-Dorsey, et. al scrap didn't hold half the interest in the state and the south in general that the twin bill satged with the Travelers at Ponce de Leon park held. In spite of the regular washday and the crying needs for the same, the crowds promised to be tife swellest thing—outside of a "Babe" Ruth collection that any minor team has drawn. With the added feature of a bargain bill of two-in-one, the scries was creating gobs of interest with the regular and occasional fans. The main topic of interest this morning is the Regardless of any advantages of interest this morning is the weather and the probability of the thrst twin bill today.

and without funds for strengthening that has marked the other in Birmingham are enthusiastic in their comment on the chances of the Barons in the bunting race. The Travelers had had little difficulty on the road previous to their invasion of slabtown and the three of five games dropped to the home club gave the strengthening that has marked the other contenders for the 1920 flag.

Martin Needs Twelve Efficient Umpires.

The announcement that John J. Martin was placed that John J. on the road previous to their invasion of slabtown and the three of five games dropped to the home club gave the Tabasco Kid a decided jar in the midrify—thus his special effort to trim the Crackers for a balancing effect. Baron twirlers got next to Miller and Harper and held their swatting to the south due to an umpire short-age and general efficiency of certain ones drawing pay, from the Southern association coffers. Following the announcement, Pfenmark beverage-weak during their stay in Rickwood. Whitey Glazner turned the trick on two separate occasions, and Morrison rung up a win for the rubber game. The victory of these two boxmen would signify that Sheehan and Markle can accomplish the same feat as can accomplish the same feat, as the two Cracker twirlers somewhat correspond to the Barons' stars in delivery and pitching style.

Bob Coleman's Lnck Is of the Bad Variety.

Playing a twelve-inning scrap with the Chicks Sunday, Bob Coleman received a broken finger in his right hand, which will perhaps keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. Bob has just recovered from a bad knee developed against the Chicks in Memphis recently and his work was making noticeable improvement in the Bear play. MO MO THIREE PUTTING THE MEXT ONE OVER" WITH"BUGS"BAER

IT USED TO BE the unwritten baseball law that the boy with the sock was always No. 4 in the line-up. Ed Delahanty, Lajoie, Jesse Burkett, Pop Anson and the other batsmiths always grabbed berth four in the slugging Pullman. If anybody got on, those birds would knock 'em off. And No. 4 was figured the right spot for the heavy lumber.

GIVE ED DELAHANTY 10 cents' worth of wood and he would step in and knock that ball curly. He always swung from the fourth stall. No. 4 was the big yazoo. The rest of the batting order consisted of sacrifice hitters and a pitcher.

BUT NOW the Sockers swing the timber from all over the line-up.

SPEAKER IS LEADING both leagues, and Spoke bopps 'em from the third position in Cleveland list. Babe Ruth is switched from third to fifth, all depending on how Miller Huggins thinks he's thinking.

ROUSH. HORNSBY, WILLIAMS and Young are four of the ten leading slappers who still bat fourth, but Jack Smith, of the Cards, bats one day and doesn't bat the next. Subject to what brand of pitcher is loose that day. Jack smacks against the left-handers.

THESE BIRDS are the top whackers in both leagues. Some of 'em four, and some of 'em don't. But it illustrates the changes since the old days when sluggers, cornerstones and bartenders all had their invovable niche in the big batting order.

TOURNEY AT AGAINST PAR

The big tourney with Old Man Par as an opponent at Druid Hills is scheduled for Saturday, August 14. Entrance fee in the meet consists of one golf ball with the three low scorers receiving the awards for their play.

Practically the entire roster of golfers at the Druid Hills club are expected to enter the tourney to help defeat the par on the course. For the play only three fourths of the prevailing handicaps will apply on the entries. Prominent among the entries will probably be C. V. Raintain ones drawing pay from the Southern association coffers. Following the announcement, Pfenninger came to Atlanta and was compelled to work all alone for the entire series and at the same time Steamboat Johnson was handling affairs for himself and Roth in the Memphis series. Sunday in Mobile "Bulldog" Williams was forced to go to the hospital and will probably be out of the game for a period of a week or more. This leaves three umpires in the south handling games alone in a neck-andneck finish of this kind. Of the three incapacitated two are of the efficient brand, Roth and Williams, ranking with the capable arbiters in the circuit.

For National Title Today.

Bobby Jones, present southern titleholder and western medalist, tees off today in his big effort to op the national golfing title from the Bear play. Coleman has been getting more or less hammering by poor sportsmen in his home town hecause of the position of the club, and his work has been greatly impaired on this account. Club officials have failed to furnish the necessary funds for a first-class ball club this season and Bob deserves a world of credit for the work he has done with a mediocre ball team

AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

New York, August 9.—(Special.)—Following were ruling prices on the American Cotton and Grain Exchange, Ins., today:

Wigh, Low. Close. Close.

New York, August 9.—An early decline of 60 to 66 points was followed by an almost complete recovery in the cotton market owing to unfavorable weather reports and to unfavorable weather reports and rumors of an armistice on the Polish front. The latter were not confirmed however, and the raily was lost with some months making new low ground for the day in the late trading. December contracts fluctuated between 30.10 and 30.70, closing at 30.25, with the general market closing barely steady at a net decline of 50 to 90 points.

at a decline of 20 to 36 points in response to disappointing Liverpool cables, nervousness over European affairs, the weakness of foreign exchange and the continued depressing character of the news from the goods trade. It seemed that the covering movement of last week had eased the technical position of the market, while there was reselling by Wall street and the south on the break, which carried October off to 31.38 and January to 28.92, or more than one cent a pound below the high price touched on the rally of last Friday.

The pressure slackened at these prices, and there were rallies during the mid-day trading, promoted by the momentarily more optimistic view of European conditions and the detailed weather reports. Except for covering, local brokers reported very little demand, however, and prices soon showed renewed weakness, closing within a few points of the lowest for the day. Private cables attributed the weakness in Liverpool to apprehens one of an advance in the Bank of England rate and the unsettled Polish situation. Reports that, so far, comparatively little ocean freight room had been booked for September and October shipment, and that the present demand was light, may have contributed to the decline, but the foreign situation was considered the chief factor.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.
New York, August 9.—Spot cotton
ulet; middling 39.00. DEPRESSION STRIKES

NEW ORLEANS COTTON New Orleans, August 9.—Wide depressions in the price of cotton were caused today by the unfavorable construction placed on foreign political news, although for a while the rumor from Lodon that the Russians had consented to a truce of four day, caused a strong tendency four days, caused a strong tendency to react. Recoveries were not wel maintained, and the close was ne-losses for the session of 41 to 5-losses for the session of 41 to 54 points. At the lowest of the day the active months were 68 to 75 points down; the truce rumors put grices back to within 11 to 18 points of last week's final quotations. At the lowest October traded down to 30.15, from which it reacted to 30.78, finally closing at 30.36.

While the weather over the cotton region was extremely unfavorable, it had no effect whatever on values and hradly served to steady the markt at the decline. According to the official returns, rain fell in all sections of the belt over Sunday, and at many points the rainfall was heavy. Private reports claimed excessive rainfall over a considerable area, and some sections complained of increased insect damage following recent cloudy and moist weather, with temperatures somewhat below the normal. Bullish traders were inclined to claim that August crop deterioration had already started.

The first new bale from Mississippi, marked at Liberty, was shipped to this market today, where it sold at 45 cents a pound.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, August 9.—Cotton seed oll was steady from nearby deliveries due to continued poor trade demand and easier lard and cotton. Late months, however, were steady on a little commission house buying and light offerings. Final bids were 8 points lower to 10 net higher. Sales, 3,200 barrels. Prime crude, nominal; prime summer yellow spot, 11.75; September, 12.40; October, 12.60; January, 12.50, all bid. Prime winter yellow and summer white, nominal.

Short selling was in great volume

The pressure of stocks was so great that many of the leaderg touched the lowest figures of the year.

Rejections by the Russian soviet government of the allied truce terms and a break of 7 cents in sterling were the dominant features. Bear operators were successful in uncovering stop-loss orders and there appeared to be also a great deal of selling of weaklymargined holdings. Creation of newlow records for many prominent issues discouraged the bulls, and there was little concerted effort to check

Rumors were circulated that loans were being called on pools and individuals whose collateral had been depreciated by the fail in quotations. Large inroads were made in the prices of the steels, equipments, shippings, oils, coppers, motors and dividend paying rail stocks. Stering exchange fell to 3.60%, and continental bills were shaded 5 to 40 points. ON COTTON SITUATION pect the market to continue nervous and erratic for the present, with buying in all probabilities being held in check until such time as conditions become moge settled. We therefore think that advantage should be taken of rallies brought about by short covering to seil the market for moderate profits.

The extensive covering movement.
In extensive covering movement and in the day was accelerated by the raily in sterling and the easier conditions in the call money mar-Bonds moved irregularly with some of the convertible issues falling sharply. Domestic and foreign government bonds were slightly lower. Total sales (par value) were $8,075,000. Old United States bonds, unchanged on call.

New York, August 9.—(Special.)—Sentiment is very mixed as the outside situation especially general business shows little signs of improvement. On the other hand, the crop is by no means yet secured and many realise that with the differences between our market and spots in the south with a high-grade contract here a readjustment must take place.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New Orleans, August 9.—(Special.)—The future course of the market will no doubt be governed mainly by weather conditions and developments of the European situation.

DUGGAN & BOUDEN. New Orleans, August 2.—(Special.)—The foreign political situation this morning seemed to be about as bad as it could possibly be without an actual declaration of a war by the allies against Russia. This very fact led some traders to antropate that the next change in the European situation would be favorable. This diagnosis of the situation was apparently borne out by the rumor that Russia had agreed to a four-day truce, but as yet the rumor lacks of ficial confirmation. If a truce is agreed to there is a chance that peace between Foland and Russia will be patched up. If this is done, the market will then respond to legitimate influences, which appear more bullish.

NORMAN MAYER & CO. New Orleans, August 9 .- (Special.) -- Disenough, but the detailed statement issued by the weather bureau showed that heavy rains were general over Sunday in many of the cotton states, including Texas, from which came further complaints of insects. The forecast called for more showers for the eastern states, generally cloudy west, but map indications pointed to better weath-er prospects western half. Nevertheless, not a few are now inclined to look for a more or less uniavorable weeks, day.

I'ending more clearly defined views of the European trouble, however, it seems it would be best to follow a conservative policy.

Three Billion Bushels CORN SLUMPS

Yield of Sweet Potatoes Cause Drop in Other Expected to Exceed 400,000,000 Bushels, While Tobacco and Rice

Are Also Promising. Washington, August 9.—A three billion bushel corn crop for the third time in the history of the country was forecast today by the department of agriculture on the basis of conditions existing August 1. Inasmuch as August is the critical month for the crop in the great corn belt of the middlewest, it is uncertain whether the promise of a crop almost equal to the enormous ones of 1912 and 1917 will be fulfilled. Improvement was reported during July in the important corn states, with the exception of Illinois and as a result, a crop forecast 224, 000,000 bushels larger than that predicted July 1, was issued. one do bushels larger than that predicted July 1, was issued.

Spring weather was adversely affected during July, principally by rust, and the production forecast of the crop was reduced 29,090,000 bushels from a month ago or to a total of 262,000,000 bushels. The preliminary estimate of winter wheat production was 15,000,000 bushels larger than forecast in July, making the combined crop of winter and spring wheat only 14,000,000 bushels smaller than estimated a month ago. The total of 795,000,0000 bushels was predicted in today's report.

The total of 795,000,0000 bushels was predicted in today's report.

Whole List Suffers From By Government Report Wheat Is Hardly Affected by Weather and European Conditions That

> Chicago, August 9.—Lessening of war tension today eased the wheat market and, with welcome rains, led to material setbacks in the value of corn and oats. Wheat closed steady, to material setbacks in the value of corn and oats. Wheat closed steady, unchanged to I cent lower; corn off to 2%c; oats down %c to 2c, and provisions at a decline of 17c to 60c. At first the wheat market had an upward tendency, as a result of some buying, ascribed chiefly to Russian refusal of the British overture for a ten-day tree with Poland. It soon became apparent, however, that the current orders to purchase lacked sufficient values to hold any advance. Weakness of sterling exchange counted also against the bulls, and when about mid-day a rumor spread that a four-day armistice had been agreed to, the market sagged under Saturday's finish Not much power to rally was shown later; although no confirmation of the armistice rumor was forthcoming.
> Heavy selling of corn followed the talk of a four-day armistice, and led to a much sharper break in prices than was the case with wheat. Partial ending of the drouth had previously ioited the confidence.

Former Governor Joseph M. Brown whereby young women and a no way concerned in the car versy, were horribly mutilate To the People of Georgia: There is not before the house of representatives a bill passed by the senate embodying, if enacted, and signed by the governor, a workmen

This measure is practically identical in plan with that placed before the legislatures of all the states by the American Federathen of Labor and enacted by a number of them.

I have written to the chairman of the house committee on labor and tabor statistic suggesting that there should be no objection to this bill if it be most reciprocal. In other words, if employers of labor be obligated by pay compensation to laborers who are physically hurt or otherwise damaged as a result of such employment, then laborers who are physically hurt or otherwise damaged as a result of such employment, then laborers who are physically hurt or otherwise damaged as a result of such employment, then laborers who are organization stated to compensate employers for damages they, singly of by a completed cooperation designedly do to private the control of the such compensation of the public press a letter wherein I showed by statistics published by the Cnicel States than 6,000 strikes in the shops, mines, etc., at home, in 4,201 of which said strikes of the such compensation for the conduct of the war against Germany 2,299,846 men, of whom 1,584,750 were compared to the such compensation of the such co ter which I wrote and sent to segators and representatives in congress, in which I showled that one organization alone—the Amalgamated Street Car Employees' association—had brought on seventy-nine strikes in sixty-five cities in thisty-one states reaching from Maine, Georgia and other states bordering the Atlantic occan to and including the three states bordering the Pacific occan, in which states they had caused the dynamiting, burning and other destruction of property and had assaulted and brutally wounded possibly one thousand law-abiding men, women and children and had killed several dozen others. What "compensation" has this Amalgamated association, or have any of its members, ever paid to those victims of its excuseless and ruthless deviltry? candidate for governor actively stumping the state denouncing certain real or imaginary abuses, railing at certain of our state's prominent men, giving utterance in his speeches to profane and unseemly epithets, tusing every art of intolerant speech it his demands for freedom of speech, denouncing autocracy in which one phase I agree with him, and in practically the same breath telling us: "When I am elected governor in September I will reorganize the party," I. e., the other 200,000 little white democrats will have nothing to do with this reorganization; this self-constituted autocrat, this masterful I will do the whole business; yea, further and eternally finally. "I propose to put a stop to vote buying once and forever." Such small matters as conventions organizing parties and the legislature to enact laws find no place in the gigantic brain of this new Moses, this new combination leader through the wilderness and law-giver, and, incidentally, this fifteen-years-behind-the-time, would be thrown into hysterics of the electorate of Georgia. This wonderful prodigy of course is Hon Thomas W. Hardwick. A few extracts from his speech at Fort Valley, August 4, will do for "samples" of himself which this would-be governor of Georgia offers to the self-respecting people of the state, viz:

He said "one-man power has ended." He claimed twice to have run a steam roller over a vival burney and said "he would give

What Compensation for victims?

And as is the record of the "organized" street car men so is the record of the "organized" coal miners, copper miners, steel workers and other "organized" workers. I repeat the question: What "compensation" have any of them paid to the victim of, not the accidental mishaps, but the murderous assaults purposely made upon them by these "organized workeren?"

But the aforesaid "organized workmen," not satisfied with having the mere preference in the well-paying, short work days, which they are yet further shortening, are now laying claim to the monopoly of them. They are on strike, now here, now there, for "closed shop." claimed twice to have run a steam roller

Several ladies in the assembly heard him say he told the San Francisco folks to "do as they d— please and go to hell." or Review" for June, 1920, published by the United States government, in which I note that during the year 1919 there were 2,950,411 workmen on strike, and that the total duration of these strikes was 57,885 days. The "Review" further says: The foregoing are some of the convincing proofs that Georgia does not need moral caliber of the kind indicated in a resident wasting an enormous amount of the country's energy, and events prove it as still having this habit of laziness.

Thus we see that, while the farmers and non-union laborers were working many hours per day, the former to raise foodstuffs, cotton, etc., for all the people, including the strikers, and the latter to keep the business of the country moving, the because they have not voted to subo the constitution and the rights of masses of the people to the unjust do of the said Gompers et al. followers of Samuel Gompers were striking for yet higher wages, for yet shorter work days, for "closed shop," etc. And I have on my files, culled from the newspapers from day to day, repeated instances in which they are even yet attempting, by which they are the conforce their determination and murder to enforce their determination shop." In our state. "Closed shop" is more than a frust to shop assert that their power in this matter they assert that their power in this matter than an organization to secure preference a fallow no profits save to its inner circle in members, more than a monopoly to have the only power to do business; it is an arrogant, grasping autocracy which proclaims its will and exerts its owner brutally to be the sole ruler of our economic affairs. Does the sole ruler of our economic affairs. Does the sole ruler of our economic affairs. Does the labor unions?

I also ask Mr. Hardwick if he is going to be organized.

Hence, they hold that the legislature, the governor, the courts, the employers and the which ultimately does the paying, the question as to whether every citizen of Georgia shall have the right and exercise the power of working on a job which the employer is willing to give him. The labor union monopoly says to all of us: "My will, which I enforce by the club, the daager, the brickbat, the revolver, the dynamite stick, supplants all law."

The Movement to Organize Negroes. But the Georgia Federation of Labor, in candidate for governor, I have no right to conjunction with the American Federation put these questions to him. To this I will f Labor, has now entered upon a movement fraught, if it succeeds, with more ment fraught, if it succeeds, with more pernicious consequences than any step taken by any combination of people in our state within the life of this generation. I refer to its movement to organize the negroes of Georgia into unions under its guidance and protection.

That you may appreciate the danger ing not only the lives of our people but also the very social fabric itself of our vilization, let me quote the following om a news story in The Atlanta Constitu-m dated July 17:

"Plans for effecting a stronger union "Plans for effecting a stronger innon organization of laborers were discussed Friday night at a mass meeting of more than 600 colored laborers held in the Labor temple on Tripity avenue. The meeting was held under the auspices of representatives of the American Federation of Labor, the Georgia Federation of Labor, the Atlanta Building Trades Council and the local laborers' unious.

"About fifty white men, recognized as leaders in the labor movement in At-lanta, attended the meeting, and representatives of various labor organizations made short addresses. At the close of the meeting many applications for membership were received by officers of the local unions. "Louis P. Marquardt spoke as a representative of the Georgia Federation Labor. Hardy O. Teat, well-known la-

The Atlanta Georgian of same date, depicting the same meeting, said: "The local laborers' unions, it was appended will be affiliated.

Hence, we see the status which these "fifty white men, recognized as leaders in the labor movement in Atlanta," leaders in the labor movement in Atlanta, "leaders in the labor movement in Atlanta," Docketbook contained nearly $2! money, besides valuable papers. Marquardt told these newly-organized men that "the strike could not be won by Sunday school methods." The result was that certainly a number of the strikers, who were once orderly, peaceable and deservedly-esteemed citizens were so transformed into near-demons that they attempted to bring about the murder of men who would not join them in depring the public of the street cars and caused of the use of the street cars and caused the blowing up, by dynamite, of street cars, services in that country.

some of these organized street car men "spoke bitterly" of me because I publicly condemned their acts of anarchy and attempted murder. But not one of these very men has "spoken bitterly" of the shedding of the blood of the young women or has withdrawn from the "union" responsible for it. This fact tells its own tale.

Under these conditions it is altogether in
